Reflection

When we act like God, we bend down. Our strength is in our compassion. We see this clearly in the life and ministry of Jesus. We hear it in his words, his parables. Today the story is set squarely on our shoulders. Our work on earth is to bend toward those regarded by others as "the least." There is more: these so-called least are worth the attention we would afford to Jesus himself. For he identifies with them. The Gospel itself presents a vision of all the people on earth standing before the throne of the Son of God. And he delivers a surprising message. Everyone in the world could understand the irresistible kind of power generated by loving compassion. Active, affective, effective compassion draws us near to its light and warmth. This compassion moves like fire throughout the earth.

"We Call Him Father"

Fathers give life to their children and provide them with everything needed for living a good life. The priest, as a spiritual Father, initiates us into supernatural life by immersing us in the waters of Baptism. He also opens the door for us to eternal life by being there at the moment of death, to wash us clean a second time with the oil of Anointing of the Sick. In between these two doorways to life, the priest is with us at all our major moments, to guide us towards living faithfully and consistently as children of God. He cares for us, shows concern and love for us, realizing clearly that God holds him responsible for our protection, security and spiritual nourishment. The priest is a true Father, who must keep working, long and hard for our holiness and salvation, and for our peace and happiness as well.

In Honor of Mary

There is not a month of the year which the Church does not celebrate some feast in her honor. We should all join the praise with which the Church greets Our Lady, and venerate her daily with the most fervent devotion. No one ever honored Mary more than God Himself. In honoring her, you imitate God. All the honor given to Mary rebounds to the honor of her Son. When you honor the Mother of God, you also praise the Maker of the most wonderful creature that has graced this earth. Since the imitation of her example is the praise that is most pleasing to Mary, we should make every effort to be like her in humility, chastity, contempt of the world, self-denial, obedience, meekness, patience and love of God and your neighbor. Our Lady will reward you. Through her intercession you can hope to obtain the greatest graces from God for your happiness and salvation.
