Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time October 23, 2022

*The prayer of the lowly pierces the clouds;
it does not rest until it reaches its goal,
nor will it withdraw till the Most High responds.
— Sirach 35:17-18a*

First Reading - The Lord is a God of justice who hears the cry of the oppressed, the orphan, the widow, the lowly.

Second Reading - The crown of righteousness awaits me.

Gospel - The tax collector stood at a distance, beat his breast, and prayed, "O God, be merciful to me, a sinner".

Comment

The Pharisee in today's Gospel passage expects God's favor and attention. After all, he is one of those set apart by his dedication to religious observance. The tax collector expects nothing. After all, he is a collaborator with the Romans and, in all probability, a thief. Jesus tells this story neither to condemn or laud the Pharisee for who he is nor to condemn or laud the tax collector for who he is. Rather, Jesus uses the story to point out the difference between the two men's attitudes—trust.

The Pharisee trusts in himself, in his own good works. He offers praise, true, but it is not praise directed to God, but self-congratulation. He asks God for nothing, because he figures he needs nothing, for he has granted himself his salvation. The tax collector, however, focuses on God in his plea for mercy. He recognizes that he is a sinner and knows that he doesn't have the power to save himself, only God does. And God does just that.

Justin Tomaszewski
